How to organize photo competitions?

Photo competitions within the ARTWEI project are qualified to draw people's attention on their environment. With such events it is possible to reach the public and to raise awareness for nature and coastal issues. Furthermore, such competitions can strengthen the cross-border cooperation and expand the inventory of coastal photos.

EUCC-The Coastal Union Germany already organized several photo competitions and is experienced with the procedure. But maybe our know-how cannot be translated directly to other countries. Therefore, the following manual gives an overview in general. The technical background (picture database, drafts for press releases, flyer and poster) will be provided by EUCC-Germany.

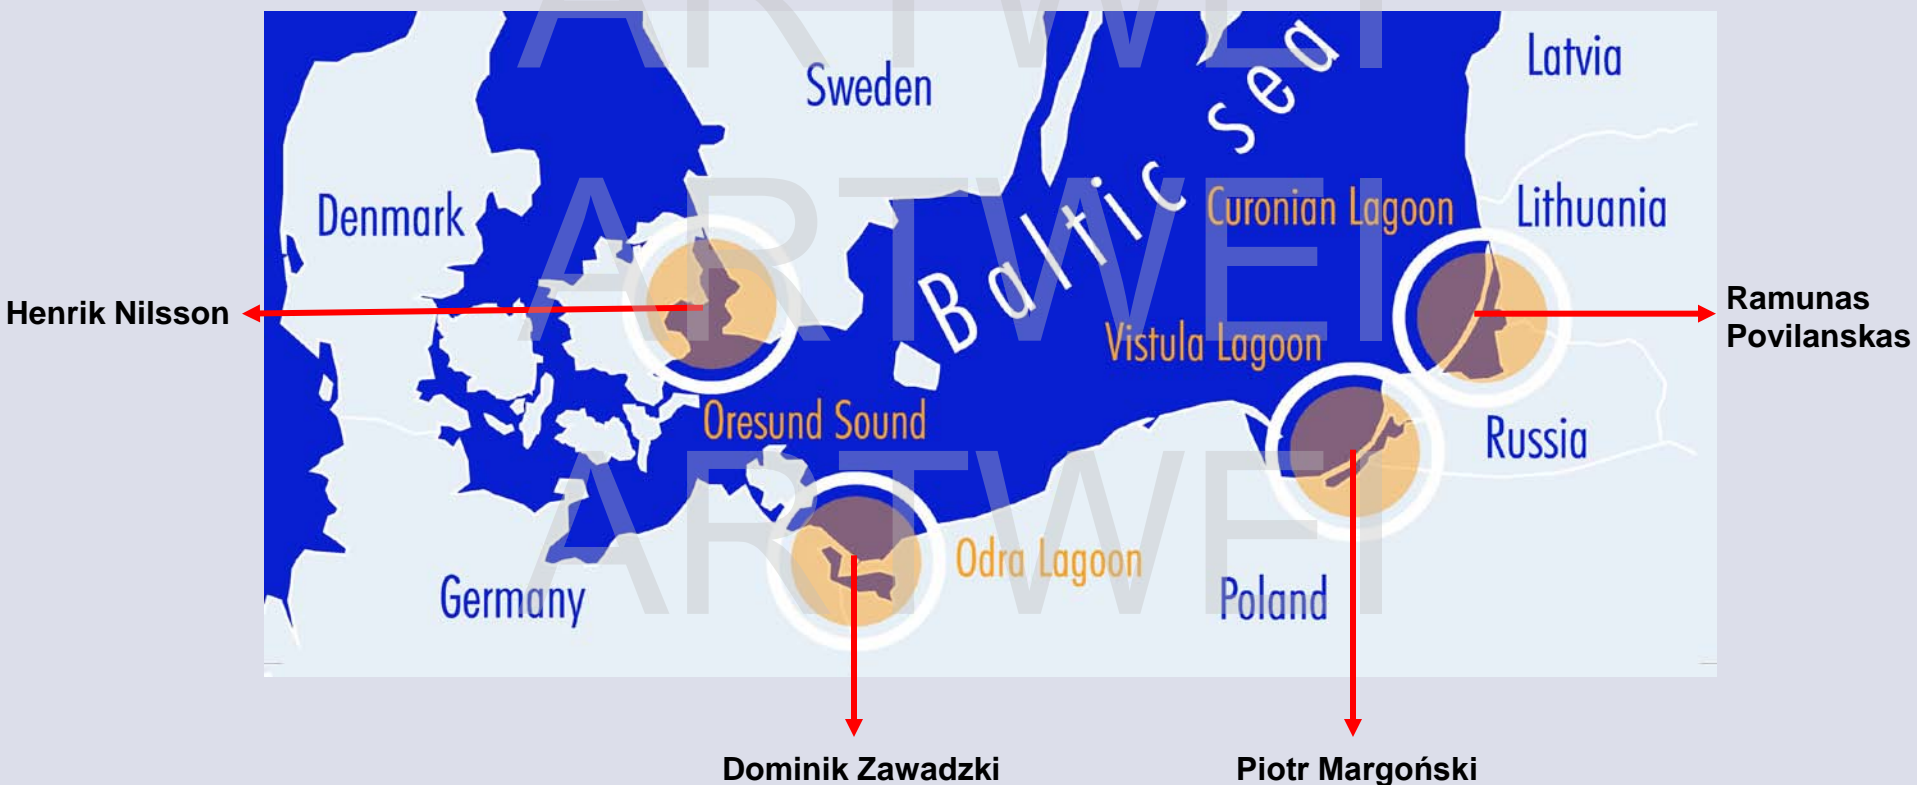

It would be desirable when all case studies would organize a photo competition on their own. In this context it is important, that only one local partner (two for a cross-border competition) should be responsible. If you have any questions or problems we provide advice and would be glad to answer your questions.
